James T. Bartlett – Writer. Journalist. Researcher.
True Crime Expert.

Born in England, James T. Bartlett is the author of the Anthony Award-nominated true crime book, The Alaskan Blonde: Sex, Secrets, and the Hollywood Story that Shocked America, which examines a sensational 1953 murder that began in Fairbanks, ended with a suicide in Hollywood, and hit the pages of Life, Newsweek, Ebony, Jet, and the pulp detective magazines.

His short story "Under the Stars" was selected for the Sisters in Crime – Los Angeles 2023 anthology Entertainment To Die For, and he also wrote the Gourmet Ghosts alternative guides to crime, ghosts, and the history behind Los Angeles bars, hotels, and restaurants, which led to appearances on Ghost Adventures and The UnXplained.

As a journalist he writes for the Los Angeles Times, National Geographic Traveller, BBC, Westways, Los Angeles Magazine, Hemispheres, High Life, Atlas Obscura, ALTA Journal California, Real Crime Reads, Frommers, American Way and more.
